

Cynthia Kulczycki graduated from Red River College Polytechnic in 2002, starting her career in general radiography before moving into MRI. Since 2016, she's been an instructor in the MRI and Spectroscopy program at RRC, where she has played a key role in curriculum transformation, including leading the development of the Foundations in Healthcare course and supporting the shift to course-based registration across Allied Health Programs.

Her leadership goes beyond academics. After completing the ENVISION Leadership Development Program, Cynthia launched RRC's first Inclusion Week, fostering equity and belonging across campus.

Cynthia has volunteered nationally with CAMRT's Exam Writing, Validation and Best Practice Guidelines committees, helping to set and uphold standards across the country. She actively promotes engagement with CAMRT to her students, encouraging the next generation to get involved and give back. As a panelist in the session titled "The Impact of Professional Pride and Advocacy" at CAMRT-MB's The Aurora in 2024, Cynthia was able to contribute meaningful dialogue on her own experience with professional pride and advocacy across the MRT profession.

Cynthia's commitment to education, professional excellence, and inclusivity exemplifies the spirit of this award.
